Important Information

THE INSURED'S DUTY OF DISCLOSURE

Before entering into a contract of insurance the insured has a duty, under the Insurance Contracts Act 1984 (Commonwealth of Australia), to disclose every matter that they know, or could be reasonably expected to know, is relevant to the Insurer's decision on whether to accept the risk of the insurance, and if so, on what terms.

The insured has the same duty to disclose these matters to the Insurer before renewing or changing this insurance.

The insured's duty, however, does not require disclosure of any matter:

- that diminishes the risk;
- that is of common knowledge;
- that the Insurer knows, or in the ordinary course of their business as an insurer, ought to know; or as to which compliance with the duty of disclosure is waived by the Insurer.

CONSEQUENCES OF NON-DISCLOSURE

If the insured fails to comply with their duty of disclosure the Insurer may be entitled to reduce their liability under this insurance in respect of a claim or may cancel this insurance. If the insured's non-disclosure is fraudulent the Insurer may also have the option of avoiding this insurance from the beginning

Payment of Premium

Premium is payable at the inception of the policy.

If the premium is being funded by a Premium Funder completion of the Premium Funding Contract is required prior to inception of the policy.
